

Blessings from Susan Lynne

June 2008

Listen Now

for my recent appearance on blog talk radio's Stargate Hosts.

Greetings,

This month has really flown by! I glanced at the calendar and was shocked to see that it was already June 26th. I started this month off with an amazingly successful weekend at KarmaFest 2008. The event was held at the Hartford County 4-H Camp and it was the perfect spot to gather and enjoy the blessings of the metaphysical realm. You could just feel the energy in the air!

In addition to meeting many new wonderful clients, I presented a fantastic one hour workshop on Manifesting with Angels. It has been so wonderful to hear back from those of you who are beginning to have encounters with your angels!

As we prepare to wrap up the sixth month of this year, let us remember that we still have six more months with which to grasp the incredible energy that is with us for 2008.

Angel Blessings,
Susan Lynne

THE TIME IS NOW.

The other evening as I was resting by the neighborhood pool, I saw the Angel Muriel, who was urging me to "get moving!" I had to laugh as I know that Muriel does not like slackers. She had defiantly decided that there were things that I needed to be writing to you all and did not care for my cusp of Libra procrastination. So Muriel, this is for you!!

Although we are preparing to leave June behind, we are moving through a time of beginnings. Think of all the many examples. When spring left us, summer began. When the longest day of the year came to us, so too started the season of shorter days. There is also graduation, the ending of studies and beginning of life. And weddings, which bring the start of a new life journey.

Muriel wants each and every one of you to grasp on to this wonderful manifesting energy that June has to offer and start all the wishes, hopes, and dreams that you have left on the back burner. Quit waiting for the right moment. Stop putting off what you know your spirit (and that 7 ounces of fire in your belly) has been telling you to do. No more later. The time is now.

Begin by acting today. Today is the day of change. Muriel reminded me of my Uncle Tommy. He had spent his whole life just getting by. His family, and especially his son, was his only focus. This parochial view of life meant that the things he needed to do to heal and bring joy to his soul were always an afterthought. Muriel told me that the message he was sending from the other side was this, "Do not wait. Our egos will never let us believe there is a right time."

And so my message to you is this - Set your ego aside. Breathe! Take one step forward after the next. Trust your vibes and walk your own yellow brick road toward your dreams. Your angels are beside you and all of us are on the other side - ready, willing, and able to guide. Your job is to listen and then ACT!!

In closing I leave you with this affirmation:

"I am a being of light and joy. There is not anything that I can not accomplish. I am a being of light. I am a being of joy. I am loved."

BLOG TALK RADIO

On June 11, 2008, I was a featured guest on blogtalk radio's Stargate Hosts. Listen to my discussion on Learning to Trust Your Vibes.

(*my segment starts at minute 17)

CLICK HERE TO LISTEN NOW!!

Susan Lynne

301.906.2203 susanlynn@mediumlink.com